TEACHER'S LICENSES.

A.—Teachers who have no license may obtain a license (good anywhere in Mississippi) by:

1. Completing the Certificate Course in the Normal College. This requires only a few months for those with high school training. A five-year license.
2. Completing the special primary course in the Normal College. This license permits the holder to teach the primary grades through the fourth. Only those who have had the equivalent of fourteen units of high school work can take this course.

B—A teacher who holds a county or state license which has already expired (within preceding year), or which will expire during the next twelve months, may renew same for one year by taking a prescribed renewal course for six weeks. This renewal course may be taken in any term during the session.

SUMMARY OF EXPENSES

Matriculation fee (paid once per session).....	$5.00
(Single term fee only $3.00)
Board, including heat, light, water, service, hospital, physician, laundry (based on last session)	175.50
Books, estimated	8.00
Total estimated expense for nine months.....	$188 50

This estimate covers entire expense for those taking only the regular teacher's course (certificate or diploma). For those who also take lessons in piano, violin, expression, shorthand, typewriting, there will be a tuition charge in addition to this estimate.

SCHOLARSHIPS

For several years the Delta & Pine Land Co. of Mississippi (general offices at Memphis, Tenn.), has given a cash scholarship of one hundred twenty-five dollars per session to a worthy young woman of Mississippi. The company makes the appointment to this scholarship and sends the money direct to the Secretary of the Normal College to be placed to the credit of the appointee.

The same company has now added another scholarship in the nature of a loan, without interest, of one hundred twenty-five dollars for the session. The recipient of this loan is selected by the company. Application for these scholarships should be made direct to the company by addressing them at Memphis.

COURSES OF STUDY

In accordance with the law, the Board of Trustees of the Normal College, on the recommendation of the President and Faculty, has arranged the following courses of study:

1. A Certificate Course—covering two years (12 terms), above the common school grades.

*2. A Professional Course—covering the work of the Certificate Course and about 18 terms additional—a total of 150 credits.

*NOTE:—Students who were enrolled prior to close of session 1917-18 may graduate with only 122 credits, provided they complete the course not later than the close of the session 1920-21.

OUTLINE OF CERTIFICATE COURSE.

An "hour" of work is the equivalent of five recitations per week for one term (six weeks). That is, 30 recitations. The successful completion of one hour's work gives one "credit."

The total number of hours for a certificate is 60.

A student will not be allowed to take more than twenty-five nor less than twenty recitations per week. (But circumstances may justify an exception to this rule, by special Faculty permission.)

It requires a double period of laboratory work to constitute a recitation in counting up work and credits. The work in Drawing, Manual Arts, Home Economics, and some work in other science is laboratory work.

An actual attendance of not less than TWO TERMS is required for the Certificate course.

The following subjects, with the number of hours indicated for each, are required for the Certificate course.

English:—11 hours. Courses 1, 2, 3, and also 6¹ and 6², under certain circumstances.

Mathematics:—6 hours. Course 3, in addition to course 1 which must be done in actual attendance.

Education:—6 hours. Courses 1¹, 2¹, 3¹, 3², 12¹, 12².

History:—6 hours. Courses 1 and 9; also course 5, which must be done in actual attendance.

Agriculture:—4 hours. Courses 1, 2, 3 and one term of 10.

Science:—4 hours. Course 1, and one term of 3; or 3 and 8.

Social Science:—3 hours. Courses 1, and 3¹ or 4¹.

Geography:—3 hours. Courses 1 (or 2), and 6.

Hygiene:—2 hours. Course 1.

Drawing:—2 hours. Courses 1 and 2.

Manual Training and Domestic Science:—3 hours. For women, courses 2 in D. S. and 1 or 2 or 3 in M. T., or courses 2 and 10¹ in D. S. For men, any three courses in Manual Training.

School Music:—3 hours. Course 1, and two terms of 4.

Penmanship:—1 hour. Course 1.

Optional:—6 hours. In any courses of curriculum, including, in addition to above subjects, Latin, Modern Languages, Piano, Violin, Bible, Athletics, Shorthand, Typewriting.

OUTLINE OF PROFESSIONAL (DIPLOMA) COURSE.

For definition of "hour" see above.

The total number of hours for a diploma is 150*.

The conditions as to maximum and minimum hours, per week, etc., apply to both Certificate and Professional Courses.

An actual attendance of not less than SIX TERMS is required for a diploma. But this attendance need not be continuous.

Following are the subjects, with the number of hours indicated for each required for the Professional Course:

English:—28 hours. First two terms of course 6 (unless student has 14 or more entrance credits); courses 8 and 16, which are to be taken in actual attendance; the remaining credits in any courses offered.

Mathematics:—18 hours. Courses 1 and 2 must be taken in actual attendance (but certain conditions may exempt from 1); courses 3 and 4; other credits in any courses offered.

History:—18 hours. Courses 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 9; courses 5 and 6 in actual attendance.

Education:—17 hours. Courses 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14.

Science:—12 hours. Course 1, with one term of 3 or 4 (or courses 3 and 8); also course 5, and four credits in any other courses offered.

Agriculture:—10 hours for men; 6 hours for women. For men, courses 1 to 9 and one term of 10; for women, courses 1, 2, 3, 7, 8 and one term of 10.

Manual Arts:—8 hours for men; 1 hour for women. For men, course 9 and any other courses to extent of 8 credits. For women, course 1, or 2 or 3.

Home Economics:—1 hour for men; 8 hours for women. For men, course 6. For women, courses 2 and 3; other four credits in any courses offered.

Geography:—7 hours. Courses 1 (or 2), 3, 6, 9; other credits in 4 or 5.

Social Economics:—6 hours. Course 1; other credits in 2, 3 or 4.

Hygiene:—6 hours. Courses 1 and 2.

School Music:—3 hours for men; 5 hours for women. For men, course 1 and two terms of 4; for women, courses 1 and 2, and two terms of 4.

Drawing:—2 hours for men; 4 hours for women. For men, courses 1 and 2; for women, courses 1, 2 and 3.

Penmanship:—2 hours. Course 1, and course 2.

Optional:—13 hours. In any courses offered, including Latin, Modern Languages, Piano, Violin, Bible, Athletics, Shorthand, Type-writing.

COURSES IN DETAIL.

The work outlined above is briefly described in detail as follows, under the head of departments. A fuller description appears in the April bulletin.

Equivalent work done in affiliated high schools or approved colleges will be accepted in lieu of most of this work.

"Credits" is used below as synonymous with "hours credit."

No credits will be given for an incompleting course, unless so stated in the description of the course.

AGRICULTURE.

T. F. Jackson.

1. Study of Plant Life—This includes a systematic study of the habits of plants, their different root systems, budding, flowering and pollination. One term. One credit.

2. Elementary Agriculture—A study of the simpler principles of plant growths, soils, fertilizers, farm crops, and a brief study of domestic animals. One term. One credit.

3. A More Advanced Study of Plant Life—One term. One credit.

4. Fertilizer formulas, balanced rations, feeding, breeding and handling of live stock. One term. One credit.

5. An Elementary Course in Animal Husbandry—One term. One credit.

6. Farm Management—This course includes the selection of farms, the capital involved in various lines of farming, and the keeping of farm accounts. One term. One credit.

7. Brief Course in Horticulture and Landscape Gardening—Includes a systematic study of the principal horticulture crops suited to our State—their habits of growth, methods of propagation and the time and methods of planting them; also the use of the farm level, laying of terraces, ditches, flower beds and walks; the general improvement of rural school yards. One term. One credit.

8. Elementary Course in Entomology—Includes the study of our common garden and field insects. One term. One credit.

DRAWING.

Miss Delora Hanel.

1. Freehand Perspective—Pencil is the medium used in this course. Required for certificate. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

2. Color.—A course for those who have finished course 1. Required for certificate. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

3. Advanced Color and Elementary Design—This course follows course 2. The first term includes more difficult studies from nature, still life, and life. The second term consists of an introductory course based upon the more important laws of design, with applications to be worked out in various mediums. Required of women for diploma. Two periods per day for two terms. Two credits.

4. Advanced Design—One term (optional).

5. Methods and Practice Teaching—One term (optional).

For other courses, see April bulletin.

EDUCATION.

G. G. Hurst, Miss Jones, Miss Hooper.

Education is a science, and the technical and professional sides of the art of teaching are being more and more emphasized. Successful teaching must be based upon a sound scholarship, certain principles of mental and social development and skill in their application. It is the purpose of this department to deal specifically with the last two requirements. To give the teacher the professional training which she needs, the Normal College presents work in theory as related to teaching, and practice in teaching under competent supervision.

The work includes a study of the local educational conditions and problems, of the principles and history of education, of the elements of school management and school economy, and of methods of teaching the different branches in the school, based upon a careful study of child development.

The theoretical side of the work is furnished by the various courses noted below. The practical side is provided for in the carefully guided observation of actual class-room work, and in practice-teaching under skilled supervision in the training school.

1¹. School Management—An introductory course which aims to prepare students for an appreciation of the further problems that will arise in their professional work, and to acquaint them with some of the more general problems of teaching. Required for certificate. One term. One credit.

1² and 1³. Elementary Psychology—Special attention is given the following: Methods of psychology, attention, sensation, perception, imagination, memory, conception, reasoning, judgment, reflex action and instinct, impulse, emotion, volition, character and the will. Work in the text book must be supplemented by reports, class-room discussions, and reading in the library. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. Hurst.

2¹. General Methods—The first term of this course is for certificate students who are preparing to teach in rural schools. The following topics are emphasized: Qualifications and personality of the teacher; significance of the recitation and its relation to the study period; general types of the recitation; questions and the making of lesson plans. Open to students who have had education 3¹ and 3². Reference books—See April bulletin. Required for certificate. One term. One credit. Miss Jones.

2² and 2³. How to Study, and Lesson Plans—This course includes a careful consideration of the principles underlying proper study, and the application of these principles in lesson plans. The purpose is to enable the teacher to teach children how to study independently and without waste of time and energy. A period each week will be given to observation and criticism of lessons presented in the practice school and in the city schools. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Jones.

3. Primary Methods—The purpose of this is to lead teachers to a practical application of educational principles in teaching in primary grades. The course consists of methods of teaching reading, phonics, spelling, language and number work in primary grades. Emphasis is laid upon correlation and the presentation of these subjects in a manner adapted to conditions found in rural schools.

Reference reading is required in connection with this course and observation work is done once a week in the Practice School. Required for certificate. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Jones.

10. Principles of Teaching—Open to those who have finished Course 1 or its equivalent.

The aim of this course is first to give the student a general view of this field of science as a whole, and second, to deal specifically with those phases of it that underly the teaching process. A large part of the time will be spent in developing the ability to apply the fundamental principles underlying the teaching process to the school-room situation rather than gaining a technical and complete science. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. Hurst.

11. Child Study—Since the teacher's problem is to know the child, a course in this science is required for a diploma. Its purpose is to interpret the nature and development of the mind during childhood and adolescence. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Jones.

12. Rural School Problems—The chief aim of this course will be to develop in future teachers the ability to take charge of and conduct a rural school properly and successfully. Required for certificate. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. Hurst.

13. Observation and Application—This course, extending through one term, is designed to meet as far as possible the purposes of practice teaching. Observation of teaching in the public schools of Hattiesburg as well as in the Observation School of the College is required. The teaching observed is judged according to principles and standards of teaching and discussed to show how it conforms to such principles and standards and what additions and omissions are necessary for improving it. Required for diploma. One term. One credit. Miss Hooper.

14. The History of Modern Elementary Education—An endeavor is made to trace the development of the elementary school from the first city vernacular schools of the Middle Ages down to the present time. In the text an attempt is made to maintain a proper ratio between the following elements: (1) Descriptions of social conditions, (2) statements of educational theory; and (3) descriptions of school practice. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. Hurst.

ENGLISH.

J. N. McMillin, Miss Hickman.

The Department of English offers courses in reading, grammar, composition, and literature. In addition to these subjects there is a course in the practical use of English in everyday life—business, social and professional.

The following notes should be studied carefully by every student before classification:

For the Certificate Course.

1. Students who enter without high school credits will take Courses 1 (six terms), 2 (three terms), and 3 (two terms). Such students will not be required to take either 6¹ or 6².

2. Students who enter with 6 credits will take Course 2 (three terms), and 3 (two terms). Such students will not be required to take either 6¹ or 6².

3. Students entering with 8 credits will take Course 2 (three terms), and will not be required to take either 6¹ or 6².

4. Students entering with 9-14 credits will take both 6¹ and 6².

For the Professional Course.

1. Those who enter with full high school credits are allowed large choice in selecting courses, but due attention should be given to the sequence of course. Courses 8 and 15 are required of all.

2. Special attention is called to the notes immediately following the description of Courses 6², 7, and 15.

3. The following order should be observed in the courses in American Literature: 10, 11, and then 8.

4. In English, 12 should precede 9.

1. Composition and American Literature—This course extends through six terms and is a year's work in English. The course must be taken consecutively. Six credits. Miss Hickman.

2. Composition—This course extends through three terms, and must be taken consecutively. Three credits. Miss Hickman.

3. English Literature—The course will extend through two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

4. Composition—A study of a few argumentative selections and the writing of argument. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Hickman.

5. The English Sentence—A study of grammar with the sentence as the unit. This course should be especially helpful to those who are to teach after taking a certificate, or to those who are preparing to teach grammar at any time. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Hickman.

6¹*. Forms of English. A course in those Forms of English which function in the daily life of the student; such as, business correspondence, social and professional correspondence, and the preparation of manuscripts. This work is an attempt to improve the use of English by practice under the supervision of the instructor until the student has become at least a good craftsman in the use of English for the purposes of everyday life. One term. One credit. Miss

Hickman. Required for certificate; and required of diploma students entering with less than fifteen credits. (See preceding notes.)

6²*. Oral English—The study and practice of Oral English. There will be daily practice in reading with a study of phonics. A study of the mechanics of speech is made that the student may be able to improve his enunciation, articulation, pronunciation and general reading ability. One term. One credit. Mr. McMillin. Required for certificate; and required of diploma students entering with less than fifteen credits. (See preceding notes.)

Note—6¹ is a prerequisite of 6²; but they are separate courses. The grades of 6¹ and 6² are not averaged.

6³. Expression—A study of principles, and application by constant practice. One term. One credit. Mrs. Henderson.

6⁴. Expression—A continuation of 6³. Some attention is given to reading as a means of literary interpretation. One term. One credit.

7. Argumentation and Debate—There is constant practice both in writing arguments and in speaking. Courses 1-4, or their equivalent, are prerequisite to this course. Two terms. Two credits.. Miss Hickman.

Note—students must have 14 credits in English before taking courses 8-14.

8*. American Literature (Southern Authors)—The writings of several leading Southern authors are studied in class, and others are assigned for outside reading. The library contains a good collection of Southern literature which is at the disposal of the students. This course is given two terms, and then repeated if necessary. Diploma students cannot substitute work done elsewhere for this course. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

9. Shakespeare—A study of three tragedies and three comedies, with required reading and term themes. This course is especially helpful to those who are to teach English in high schools. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

10. American Literature (Short Story)—This course includes a number of the best American short-story writers. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

11. American Literature (The Novel)—A study of some of the leading American novelists as interpreters of American life. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

12. The English Novel—Some attention is given to the historical development of the novel. Authors illustrating the different periods are read as class work. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

13. Nineteenth Century Poetry (American or English)—Certain authors are selected for class study, while others are assigned as outside required reading. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

14. The Essay—This course will include a study of typical English essays, several notable American essays, and the reading of a number of recent essays both English and American. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

15*. The Art of Writing—A practical application of the principles of advanced composition to the more difficult forms of writing. Manuscripts, orations, newspaper articles, and material for college publications constitute a part of this course. Work done elsewhere cannot be substituted for this course by diploma students. The student must have at least 20 credits in English before taking English 15. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

16. The Teaching of English—A course in methods. This course will include methods for the upper grammar grades and for high school English. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Hickman and Mr. McMillin.

17. English for Public Workers—This course is designed for those who are to become public workers of any kind, such as demonstrators, county agents, club workers, social service workers, and, in short, for all those whose work requires public leadership. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Hickman.

18. The Modern Drama—A few of the leading dramas will be read in class, and others assigned for outside reading. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. McMillin.

GEOGRAPHY.

Miss Willa Bolton.

1. Elementary Geography—The aim of this course is to show the student that geography is closely related to everyday life; that industry, commerce, location of cities, etc., are directly dependent upon the physical conditions and natural resources of countries. The cause and effect idea is worked out as the continents are taught. The State of Mississippi is taken up in detail. Enough physical and mathematical geography is given to enable the student to teach the adopted text in the grades. Two terms. Two credits.

2. Physical Geography—A brief course in physical geography. Two terms. Two credits.

3. Commercial Geography—Open to those who have two credits in course 1 or course 2. The first term's work embraces a study of the factors underlying commerce, with the application of these in an intensive study of the commercial and industrial geography of the United States. The second term's work is mainly on South America and the great commercial countries of Europe. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits.

4. Commercial Geography—A continuation of course 3. One term. One credit.

5. Advanced Physical Geography—One term. One credit.

6. Geography in the Grades—Methods. A study of the best modern methods of presenting geography to the grades from the third through the seventh. Required for certificate. Open only to students having two credits already completed. One term. One credit.

9. Geographic Influences in History—One term. One credit.

HISTORY.

H. L. McCleskey, Miss Kate B. Brown.

1. Oriental, Grecian, and Roman History—This course, divided into four terms, will trace the conditions and institutions of man from the earliest times to the time of Charlemagne, trying to give some conception of the relations of the countries of the world to one another as well as some idea of the contribution each has made to present day civilization, and, if possible, to find the reasons for the successes and failures in the progress and development of each. Maps and library work are required. Required for certificate. Four terms. Four credits. Miss Brown.

2. Mediaeval and Modern History—This is a four-term course extending from the time of Charlemagne to the present and tracing the causes and effects of such movements as the Reformation, French Revolution, Growth of the English Parliament, etc., and the relation of these movements to the Development of Modern Europe and of the American Nation. Much collateral reading with written reports required. Required for diploma. Four terms. Four credits. Mr. McCleskey.

3. English History—This course is optional and open to those who have had 1 and 2. The development of those ideas and institutions which have been grafted into American ideals and government will be studied carefully. Much library work is required and no entrance credit will be given on this course for work not done by the laboratory plan. Two terms. Two credits. Miss Brown.

4. American History—This is an advanced course in which much collateral reading in the library together with note-book work, map-work and term themes is required. This course is open to those who have had 1 and 2. No entrance credits will be given for work not done by laboratory plan. Required for diploma. Six terms. Six credits. Mr. McCleskey.

5. Methods in History—This is a study of the principles of history, the proper organization of materials, and the purpose of history in the grades. Much time is devoted to the study and presentation of subject matter in the first grades. Open only to those who have had course 1. Required for certificate. No substitute. One term. One credit. Miss Brown.

6. Research Work in Mississippi History—This course is conducted by means of library reference, class lectures and class discussions. It is intended to create in the student greater pride in his State, and broader information as to the social, educational, industrial problems of Mississippi. Open to those who have finished courses 1 and 2. Required for diploma. No substitute. One term. One credit. Miss Brown.

8. Latin-American History—Required for diploma. One term. One credit.

9. Selected Topics—This course is designed to unify and enrich as far as may be the knowledge of history already in the student's possession and to clarify ideas with reference to causes and effects in history. The topic for study at present is The Great War. An attempt will be made to show how conditions and movements in all European history have brought about the changes in the map of Europe and how the Great War is the logical outcome of it all. Required for certificate. Much library reading will be done. One term. One credit.

10. History of the Constitution.—One term. One credit.
11. Industrial History of the United States—One term. One credit.
12. History as Past Ethics—One term. One credit.

HOME ECONOMICS.

Miss Alice C. Tolbert.

2¹. Elementary Cooking and Food Study—Study of composition of foods; calorific value; balanced meals. Sources and method of manufacture of food-stuffs used. Cooking of cereals, vegetables, fruits, beverages, eggs, and milk. Simple meals planned and served. Required of women for certificate. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

2². Elementary Cooking—The aim in this course is to study the factors that influence the making of breads and to acquire skill in the making of breads. Study of flour and wheat substitutes. Chemistry of leavening agents. Importance of good bread taught. Required of women for certificate. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

3¹. Advanced Cooking.—Study of meats. Cooking of roasts, steak, stews, and soups. Economic importance of meats. Study of meat substitutes. Protein cookery emphasized. Study of carbohydrates and fats. Open to students who have had course 2. Required of women for diploma. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

3². Meal Planning and Serving—Planning of meals for different types of families; cost, food value, time, and attractiveness considered. These meals are limited as to cost and the cost carefully worked out. Study of proper equipment for home, dining room, and kitchen. Open to students who have had courses 2 and 3¹. Required of women for diploma. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

4. Teaching of Home Economics—History of Home Economics movement. Reasons for teaching. Making of lesson plans. Planning courses of study for rural, consolidated, and high schools. Study of equipment. Practice teaching. Open to students who have had courses 2 and 3. One period per day for one term. One credit.

5. Invalid Cookery—Study of food requirements under different abnormal body conditions. Rules for feeding the sick. Cooking of foods and serving of trays for patients. Open to students who have had courses 2 and 3. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

6. Food Study—Study of composition and calorific value of foods. Proper combinations of foods in a diet. Food for institutions. Food conservation. Required of men for diploma. One period per day for one term. One credit.

7. Experimental Cookery—Cooking studied from experimental viewpoint entirely. Students choose their own problems and work them out in the laboratory. Some research work required. Open to students who have had courses 2 and 3. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

8¹. Food Production and Conservation—Study of production, manufacture, and handling of staple food-stuffs. Legislation concerning food. Methods of conserving food—canning, drying, etc. Study of food situation and plans or copying with problems. Giving of demonstrations. Open to students who have had course 2. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

8². Rural Home Economy—Relation of Home Economics to rural conditions. Problems of the country housewife. Serving of simple meals of products grown on the farm. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

9¹. Principles of Nutrition—Study of nutritive value and function of food principles. Chemistry of digestion. Protein and energy requirements of the body during childhood, adolescence, adult life, and old age. Open to students who have had courses 2 and 3 and chemistry. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

9². Dietetics—Study of composition and energy value of foods. Methods of making dietary calculations. Planning of dietaries. Open to students who have had course 14¹. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

10¹. Sewing—Includes practice in hand-sewing, fundamental stitches being applied to simple articles, consisting of cooking aprons, kitchen towels, sewing bag, and under-garments. Problems in design, textiles, and economics are considered in connection with the technical work. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

10². Sewing—A continuation of 10¹, with the addition of simple machine work; (1) aprons, (2) kimonos, (3) simple dresses, (4) middies, (5) simple garments for soldiers. In connection with the above, samples of different linen and cotton material are compared and discussed with regard to suitability and utility, width and price. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

10³. Sewing—Includes the making of articles requiring the use of the sewing machine and its attachments, the use of all the fundamental stitches applied to articles and garments suitable for elementary and high school classes. It gives extended practice in the use of commercial patterns and in planning, cutting, fitting and finishing of simple tailored garments. Planning of courses, study of devices and equipment for teaching. The manufacture of fabrics and manufacturing conditions that affect the value of materials. Two periods per day for two terms. Open to students who have had 10¹ and 10² courses. Two credits.

11. Advanced Sewing—Includes more difficult forms of dress making and a study of fabrics, economics and correct use of materials, color combination and cost, the drafting of simple patterns. Open to students who have had all of course 10. Two periods per day for two terms. Two credits.

12. Textiles and Laundry—Open to students who have had all of course 10. One period per day for one term. One credit.

14. Household Management—Two periods per day for two terms. Two credits.

For other courses see April bulletin.

LATIN.

H. L. McCleskey, Miss Kate Brown.

1. First Year Latin—A thorough drill in forms, accent, pronunciation and simple construction. Special attention given to Latin words from which English words are derived. Six terms. Six credits. Miss Brown.

2. Second Year Latin—Caesar—During the first term a thorough review is given of the declensions, conjugations and simple rules of grammar. The remainder of the year's reading is devoted to Caesar's Gallic Wars. Prose composition one hour a week. Sight reading. Four terms. Four credits. Miss Brown.

3. Third Year Latin—Cicero—Classes will be organized in this course if there is sufficient demand for it. Four terms. Four credits. Mr. McCleskey.

4. Fourth Year Latin—Virgil—Classes will be organized in this course if there is sufficient demand for it. Four terms. Four credits. Mr. McCleskey.

Note—Credits in Latin taken in this college (to extent of ten points) may be substituted for certain work in other subjects required for diploma. See outline of Diploma Course.

MANUAL ARTS.

Sam E. Woods.

1. Hand Work for Primary Grades—Open to teachers and supervisors of primary grades. This course deals with the problems of the first three grades from the standpoint of the supervisor or regular grade teacher. It is intended to develop a practical method of relating the fundamental processes of home and industrial life to the dominant interest of the child through the exercise of the constructive instincts and play. The course includes paper folding, tearing, cutting, weaving; card board constructing, book binding, making posters, and clay modeling. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

2. Hand Work for Intermediate Grades—Open to supervisors and teachers of intermediate grades. The course includes work in raffia and reed braiding, weaving mats and baskets and rugs of various materials. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

3. Knife Work—This course includes work in thin wood exercise suitable for intermediate grades. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

4. Bench and Tool Work—The aim of this course is to teach the important tool operations used in wood working. The work as outlined can be taught in any school that has an equipment of benches and hand tools. The students make a number of useful articles which illustrate various tool processes. The sharpening of tools and a study of materials used in wood-working will receive due attention. Class demonstrations and short talks will be given at each new stage of the work. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

5. Bench Work and Model Making—For those who have finished course 3. The work in this course will be more advanced. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

6. Bench Work, Joining and Finishing—For those who have finished courses 4 and 5. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

7. Bench Work—For those who have finished courses 4, 5 and 6. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

8. Bent Iron Work—Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

9. Mechanical Drawing—This course is designed to give instruction which will enable students to acquire proficiency in the use of instruments, drawing board, T-square and triangles. Required of men for diplomas. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

10. Shop Work—This course is a non-technical course, intended for teachers in rural schools where the time and tool equipment are both limited. Special emphasis is given to plans for giving the work in rural schools. Projects, as porch swings, wood boxes, fly swats, fly traps, rat traps, screen windows and doors, wheel trays, baby coops, window and porch boxes for flowers, cutting door steps, runners and rafters, are given. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

11. Shop Work—This course is intended for principals of schools and teachers who are interested in better playgrounds. The different pieces of playground equipment are studied and constructed. Special emphasis is given to the arrangement of playgrounds in regard to buildings, school gardens, etc. Two periods each day for one term. One credit.

12. Farm Mechanics—This course emphasizes the different exercises in construction, but these are taken up in the construction of some useful farm project and not as exercises. Such projects, as farm gate, terrace level, terrace drag, split-log, feeding troughs and boxes, etc., are made. Two periods per day for one term. One credit.

MATHEMATICS.

T. P. Scott, S. C. Hall.

1.* Arithmetic—A brief topical review of the fundamental principles of arithmetic, with methods of teaching these principles. Required for certificate. No substitute. One form. One credit.. Mr. Scott.

Note—If a student is found to be deficient in knowledge of common school arithmetic, practical or mental, he will be required to take up work in special non-credit classes.

2.* Arithmetic—A further study of the more important operations in arithmetic, with methods of teaching same. This course is open to those who have finished the first course in algebra. It involves a study of the place of Arithmetic in the common school curriculum and the manner in which it should be correlated with other subjects. Required for diploma. No substitute. One term. One credit. Mr. Scott.

3. Algebra—A class for beginners in algebra, covering principles of elementary algebra. Required for certificate. Five terms. Five credits. Mr. Hall.

4. Geometry (plane)—A study of the five books of plane geometry, with special attention given to original exercises and practical application of principles. Required for diploma. Five terms. Five credits. Mr. Scott.

5. Algebra—A second course in algebra for those who have had course 3. A review of the most important principles of elementary algebra; also a study of quadratic equations, of linear equations, progressions and logarithms. Required for diploma. Four terms, with privilege of taking one or all. One credit for each term. Mr. Scott.

6. Geometry (solid)—For students who have finished plane geometry and the second course in algebra. Required for diploma. Two terms. Two credits. Mr. Scott.

7. Trigonometry—A complete course in plane and spherical trigonometry for those who have finished solid geometry. Three terms. Three credits. Mr. Scott.

8. Accounting and Business Arithmetic—Three terms. Three credits. Mr. Scott.

MODERN LANGUAGES.

Mrs. Gladys Henderson.

1. First Year French—The elements of grammar. Special training in pronunciation by means of practical phonetics. Reading of simple stories and plays. Six terms. Six credits.

2. Second Year French—A thorough review of grammar and practical phonetics. Reading from La Brete, Maupassant, Merimee, Daudet, Paillerons and Moliere. Six terms. Six credits.

3. First Year Spanish—A careful study of Spanish grammar. Conversational exercises given from the beginning. Readings selected. Six terms. Six credits.

4. Second Year Spanish—Grammar reviewed. Spanish composition. Reading from Alacron, Breton and Calderon. Commercial Spanish. Six terms. Six credits.

Note—Credits in Modern Languages taken in this college may be substituted for certain work in other subjects required for diploma. See Outline of Diploma Course.

PENMANSHIP.

Miss Mary Pulley.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

H. L. McCleskey.

The aim in this department is to bring within the grasp of the student the fundamental principles of physiology and hygiene, the practice of which will give him a means of conserving his resources and vitality, so as to result in increase in energy.

1. Physiology and Hygiene—This is a two-term course. The first term is devoted chiefly to a study of the most important physiological functions of the body.

During the second term a study of personal, home, school and public hygiene will be made. Required for certificate. Two terms. Two credits.

Practical Hygiene—Hygienic Living—This includes the appreciation, practice and application of the principles taught. Sleeping with open windows, keeping rooms in neat and sanitary condition are included as a part of this practical work. A record of this work is kept for the full time a student is in the college, and if this record is not up to the required standard no credit for Course 1 will be allowed.

2. Hygiene and Home Nursing—This is a three-term course. During the first term the time is largely taken up with a continuation of the study of hygiene along the lines indicated in the first course. Special attention will be given to the cause and prevention of tuberculosis, malaria and hookworm. Medical inspection, its need and use, is demonstrated with the children of the Practice School. Such conditions as adenoids, defective eye-sight and bad teeth are shown to the students.

A part of the work done in the School Improvement League includes inspection of rooms, sanitary condition of campus, etc. Tours of inspection are made to nearby dairies, bakeries and laundries.

Lessons are given in home nursing, how to care for the room of the sick, how to make the bed, bathe and change clothing of a sick person; how to prepare food for invalids, how to prepare ordinary remedies, how to fumigate and disinfect.

Practical Hygiene or hygienic living is continued throughout the diploma course. The student will not receive credit for the course in hygiene unless his work in practical hygiene is satisfactory throughout the time he remains at the college. Required for diploma. Three terms. Three credits. Mr. McCleskey.

SCHOOL MUSIC.

Miss Lorena Tomson.

The purpose of this department is to prepare teachers to teach music in the primary and grammar grades in the public schools of the State.

1. This course is to familiarize students with the elements of music, and covers work corresponding to that taught in the first four grades of school music, including syllables, intervals, ear-training, oral and written dictation and note singing. Two terms. Two credits.

2. This course covers material used in the fifth and sixth grades. This course is required of women for diploma, and must be preceded by Course 1. Two terms. Two credits.

4. Chorus Class—This course is open to all who are interested in music and can sing, and will come regularly to rehearsals. Required for certificate. Two terms. Two credits.

5. Primary Methods and Rote Singing—One term. One credit.

6. Chorus Conducting—One term. One credit.

SCIENCE.

R. J. Slay.

1. Biology—A systematic study of plant and animal life. It includes a study of bacteria, slime moulds, algae, fungi, mosses and their allies, ferns and their allies, and the true flowering plants. Practical work is required, including field trips, gathering of specimens and microscopical study of plants and animals. Two double periods and three single periods each week. Required for certificate. Three terms. Three credits.

3. General Science—An introduction to both physical and natural science. The course will cover three terms, two of which will be as an introduction to Chemistry and one to Natural Science and Physics. This course is a prerequisite for Physics or Chemistry. Three terms with privilege of taking one or all. One term required for certificate. One credit for each term.

4. Physics—A study of physical laws and principles, and their application to practical uses. The following topics will be discussed: Pressure of liquids and gases, constitution of solids, heat, light, magnetism, electricity. Laboratory work required—performing experiments and making simple apparatus. This course includes four terms. A student may take one or more of these terms and receive one credit for each term taken.

5. Inorganic Chemistry—A systematic study of the common elements as to their combinations, their existence and the fundamental laws and theories concerning them. This course will be given with a view to aiding students in both Agriculture and Domestic Science Departments. Required for diploma. Four terms. Four credits.

7. Mineralogy—One term. One credit.

8. Practical and General Science—A laboratory course for those who have completed course 3. Two periods for each day. One term. One credit.

9. Qualitative Analysis—Four terms. Four credits.

SOCIAL ECONOMICS.S. C. Hall.

1. Civics—This course offers a brief study of the origin and development of our national government. Particular attention is given to the practical workings of the government, both State and National. Two terms. Two credits.

2. Political Science—This course offers a study in the science of government, particular attention being given to the origin and development of the Federal System, and a comparison of this system with those of some of the European Countries. Two terms. Two credits.

3. Economics—The usual phases of the subject are discussed under the general divisions of the Consumption, the Production, and the Distribution of Wealth. In addition to this, various phases of rural life, both economic and social, are discussed. The course is intended to be practical and of particular interest to those who expect to teach in rural communities. Two terms. Two credits.

4. Rural Sociology—Preparation for responsible and intelligent citizenship is calling for the most serious attention of students of educational philosophy; and this call will become more insistent as population and wealth increase.

Courses 1 and 3¹ or 4¹ required for certificate. Any three courses for diploma.

BIBLE.

Under the direction of the two Christian Associations and a Faculty Committee the following courses in Bible study are given each year. These classes recite once each week:

1. Old Testament History. Thirty lesson. One credit.
 3. Life of Christ. Thirty lessons. One credit.
 4. A course consisting of three parts, ten lessons each, following the outline of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. One credit for entire course.
 5. Sunday School Methods. Thirty lessons. One credit.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

Miss Lorena Tomson, Director.

Mrs. Bonita P'Pool Crowe, Piano.

Miss Margaret E. Gillard, Violin.

Piano—A five-year course based on certain preparatory work. For promotion to first year work, the student must play from memory at student's recital.

For promotion to second year Czerny studies from Op. 299, Bk.

1, Nos. 8 and 9 must be played from memory—two before the teacher and one in students' recital.

For promotion to third year, 6 Three-part Bach Inventions must be memorized and the first movement from one of selected Sonatas played from memory and analyzed before the music faculty and students.

Fourth Year—Continuation of scale work with dominant and diminished seventh chords, arpeggios and broken chords must be played in public, and two recitals from Czerny, Op. 740, must be played in students' recital.

Fifth Year—Clementi's Gradus ad Parnassum continued: Chopin Etudes, Beethoven Sonatas, Chopin Waltzes; pieces selected.

Students finishing this course will be granted a diploma after they have passed satisfactory test, and played from memory at public recital; one Beethoven Sonata; one Chopin Waltz, and other pieces selected by teacher.

Students are not required to take above examinations, but no credits will be granted until these examinations are taken.

See April bulletin for full description of Piano Course.

VIOLIN.

No particular one of the so-called Methods of Technical Development is adhered to, but the good points of many, as gained by much observation and study, are used. The aim of the department in all its branches is to cultivate in the pupils an easy, natural, and yet correct position and manner of playing, particular attention being given to the development of a keen musical intelligence and to thought concentration as well as to that technical drill so necessary in the acquiring of a thoroughly schooled technique.

Another feature of the work in this department is the opportunity given to students to play in the College Orchestra and Ensemble Classes.

TERMS FOR PIANO, VIOLIN, VOICE.

Piano instruction—$7.50 per term.

For practice per hour—$1.50 per term.

All fees to be paid in advance at Secretary's office. $5.00 to be deposited in advance with Secretary for Music.

Class lessons in Piano and Violin will be offered at reasonable price—conditions announced later.

Harmony is offered to those who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity.

Classes of five (5); terms, $1.50 per term, per member.

Private instructions, $7.50 per term.

Violin—$7.50 per term.

SHORTHAND AND TYPEWRITING.

Miss Nettie May Herrington.

War conditions have created such a demand for men and women who are proficient in shorthand and typewriting that it has been deemed wise to offer this work in the Normal College.

As the college has no funds available at this time for the expenses of conducting such a department, it will be necessary to charge a tuition fee.

Students who complete this department will be qualified for general office work or other stenographic positions, and they will be given a certificate evidencing this fact. The college will also lend its assistance in securing a position for those who finish this work.

Students who are deficient in spelling or in the use of correct English constructions, or in the knowledge of business arithmetic, will be required to bring up such deficiency in regular college classes, or in classes organized for this purpose.

1. Typewriting—A course in touch typewriting. Two periods per day for three terms. Three credits.

2. Shorthand—A course in modern shorthand, requiring from four to six terms for its completion. As the instruction is individual, a student may progress as rapidly as his ability will permit. One who completes the course successfully will be given ten credits.

EXPRESSION.

Mrs. Gladys Henderson.

For those who wish to become proficient in the art of expression, there is offered a course which is in the nature of an extension of the course in English known as 6³ and 6⁴. This instruction is individual and should prove especially helpful to teachers who will be called upon to arrange school entertainments. For students who have special talent in this line it also offers opportunity for the cultivation of this talent as a valuable accomplishment. There will be a tuition charge of five dollars per term for this course.

OTHER COURSES.

In addition to the two regular courses, the Certificate Course and the Diploma Course, there have been arranged several special courses to meet the needs of various classes of teachers and other educational workers. Some of these are:

A PRIMARY COURSE.

Only those students who have had the equivalent of fourteen high school units can enter upon this course. The course itself consists of certain work in primary methods in education, together with other work correlated with primary teaching. The course may be completed in two terms (in less time by some students), and leads to a primary state license.

A RENEWAL COURSE.

This is a course for renewal of county or state license under conditions outlined by the State Board of Examiners. It requires one term and adds one year to the life of the license. Renewal work may be taken any term of the session.

A BUSINESS COURSE.

This course consists of shorthand, typewriting, penmanship, and accounting, supplemented by certain classes in English, when necessary.

A HOME ECONOMICS COURSE.

This course includes most of the classes offered in home economics, together with certain other correlated work. It leads to a state home economics license.

A HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT'S COURSE.

This course has been arranged at the suggestion of Miss Susie V. Powell, state director home demonstration work, and includes the following:

Home Economics—16 hours (credits). Courses 2¹, 2², 3¹, 3², 8¹, 8², 9¹, 9², 10¹, 10², 10³, and 11.

English—10 hours. Courses 2, 3, 4, 6¹, and 17.

Agriculture—7 hours. Courses 1, 2, 3, 6, 7, and 8.

Education—6 hours. Courses 1², 1³, 11 and 12.

Science—6 hours. Courses 5 and 6.

Hygiene—3 hours. Course 2.

This makes a total of 48 credits and requires nearly two sessions.
